The train that stops at Ironton station at seven o'clock in the evening for St. Louis is not in any sense a fast train. Although it makes scarcely any stops between here and St. Louis it requires three hours and fifty-five minutes to make the run.

Last Wednesday evening, Misses Maud and Minnie Fisher entertained a number of friends at their home, in honor of Miss Mattie Winkler of Poplar Bluff. The evening was delightfully spent by all present and dainty refreshments were served.

There were just 53 votes cast for Nation, the Republican "dry" candidate for Congress in the primary election in Iron County last week. The Republican leaders are not so ardently "dry" now as they were (?) last fall when the local option election was on.

A postal card from Chas. K. Bliss, dated Jerusalem, July 10th, says, "I just visited the river Jordan and Dead Sea, from Jerico. Took a bath in the Dead Sea. Jerusalem is very interesting; will arrive at Bethlehem this afternoon." The postal card contains a picture of Damascus Gate at Jerusalem. —De Soto Press.

Last Tuesday evening, Miss Clara Giovannoni entertained a crowd of young folks in honor of her aunts, Mrs. Schultz of St. Louis and Mrs. Winkler of Poplar Bluff, and her cousins, the Misses Winkler, also of the Bluff. Various enjoyments were indulged in until a late hour when dainty refreshments were served. All present reported a good time and hope to meet there again soon.

Ripley County shipped her first cars of peaches this season from two to five cars a week. The first car contained 540 crates, each crate had three baskets, of a peck each. All were of the Elberta variety. From one orchard of 4000 trees, 800 only in bearing, they will gather 5 carloads of 500 crates. The trees are in rows 15 feet apart and every six rows there is a drive way for wagons. —Southeast Missouriian.

Mr. J. B. White, president and general manager of the M. L. & M. Co., came to town last week and remained until Monday of this week. While here he issued an order to restore wages to the original scale which prevailed before the financial flurry. In January the M. L. & M. Co. cut the wages of all employees ten per cent, but promised them that as soon as conditions improved the company would put them back again. Conditions have improved, business is picking up again and prices of lumber are going up, and as a result the M. L. & M. Co., have kept the promise to its employees and they will go to work August 1 with wages at the old scale. —Grandin Herald.

It is seldom that you hear of a bunch of yearlings making a trip to St. Louis and return to the same neighborhood in less than a month, but that occurred this spring here in this county. About the first of June Henry Swiney bought a car of cattle on Dickens Valley and Logan and among them were several yearlings. He shipped them to St. Louis and sold them on the market. Early in July Geo. Boyd went to the city and bought a bunch of yearlings, shipped them to Piedmont and drove them out to his farm in this county. About two weeks ago Boyd sold to Perry Bedwell 48 of them and Mr. Bedwell sent his boys after them. As soon as the boys saw the cattle they recognized several of them as being the same cattle that their grandfather Swiney had shipped. The most remarkable feature about the matter is that each party had made from $3 to $5 per head on them, and they sold the last time at $12 per head. —Ellington Press.

Superintendent Cannon of the Iron Mountain threatens to move the freight division of the road from Piedmont to Poplar Bluff unless the citizens of the former place permit the strike-breakers, recently imported to take the place of strikers, to work in peace. "It is but a few miles to Poplar Bluff," said Mr. Cannon, "and unless the men sent to Piedmont are permitted to work without being disturbed by the citizens, who are in sympathy with the strikers, the freight division will be removed." Five of the men sent to Piedmont to break the strike were arrested one day last week on charges preferred by the citizens of the town, who charged the men with carrying concealed weapons. The men were tried before the mayor Wednesday and released. Railroad officials charge that sympathizers of the striking carmen threatened to burn the home of a widow at whose house the men were boarding. She became frightened that the threat would be carried out and the men were forced to cook their own provisions. Later the railroad company sent boarding cars to Piedmont for the accommodation of the men. —Poplar Bluff Republican.

The Iron Mountain Railroad Company is having its track resurfaced at many points along the line, and is paying particular attention to curves with a view to making greater speed possible for the passenger trains. It has been announced that Fast Mail Train No. 7 will soon be put on a much faster schedule and that the other passenger trains will also be speeded up. In order to make these plans feasible it is proposed to raise the rail grade at curves, as a fast running train must have a properly surfaced track in order to take sharp curves with safety.

Green Wilson, foreman of the north Piedmont section is in charge of the extra gang of thirty-five men surfacing the track and raising the curves north of Bismarck. The old elevation of the curves was one and a quarter inches, which is supposed to admit of trains running at a speed of about fifty miles an hour. Mr. Wilson's new instructions provide for an elevation of one and three-quarter inches, and it is estimated that a fast train like No. 7 could take a curve so elevated at a speed of seventy to ninety miles an hour. A tie gang is operating ahead of Wilson's crew, and there are evidences that the road intends to put the track in tip top shape. —Piedmont Banner.

Considerable stealing is being done in and around this town, especially in tools and brass articles at the mills. One mill lost every oil cup, sight feed lubricator and piece of brass about it, probably thirty dollars worth, one night last week. It is said that someone here buys this stuff from the boys and others, for about one tenth its value, and no questions asked. This will make thieves of boys who would otherwise be honest.

Ezra Collins Tual.

Following is the brief but interesting sketch furnished me of one whom I have personally known for almost fifty years. Of unusual attainment and knowledge of the world, he was withal unassuming, though of positive temperament. Just he was to all men, and the Golden Rule never had a more consistent follower. The things that came to his hand to do, he did with honesty and sincerity, and happily blest with a helpmeet devoted to him and the duties of the home, his life-work was such that well may we hold that "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," has greeted his entrance into the Great Unknown. Mr. Tual was one of the few remaining links that
